

18th century painted carving of St Peter

Sold

Description

An amazing 18th century painted carving of St Peter with crook and holding the book of judgement. It's wonderful condition is thanks to it being in a private chapel for the last 300 years.

Saint Peter is often shown dressed as a bishop in his role as the founder of the Church of Rome. The book signifies his position at the pearly gates where he judges one and all.