

Elegant 19th century glass water jug

£85

REF: 6947

Height: 20 cm (7.9")

Diameter: 13 cm (5.1")

Description

An elegant 19th century cut glass water jug with flower petal rim, circa 1830.

Cut glass water jugs are elegant vessels renowned for their intricate designs and sparkling clarity. Crafted by skilled artisans, these jugs feature precise geometric patterns etched or carved into the glass, creating a prismatic effect that catches light beautifully.

Often used for formal dining or special occasions, they elevate the presentation of water, juice, or other beverages. The weight and clarity of quality cut glass convey sophistication, while the patterns reflect centuries of decorative artistry.

Beyond aesthetics, their sturdy construction ensures functionality. Collectors and enthusiasts prize them for both practical use and as decorative centerpieces that add timeless charm to any table.