Description

A heavy Edwardian 18ct yellow gold ring set with three opals and four old cushion cut diamonds, hallmarked Birmingham 1917

UK Ring Size: P

Old cushion-cut diamonds, also known as antique cushion cuts, feature a vintage charm that reflects their 19th century origins. Renowned for their soft, rounded square or rectangular shape, these diamonds combine a romantic, pillowy appearance with a brilliant sparkle. Unlike modern cushion cuts, their larger facets highlight clarity and create a distinct, warm glow under candlelight. Treasured for their timeless elegance, old cushion-cut diamonds are a favourite in antique and vintage-inspired jewellery, exuding history and sophistication.
