Founded in 1735, Garrard & Co. is one of Britain's oldest and most prestigious jewellers. Renowned for its craftsmanship, the company became the first official Crown Jeweller in 1843, responsible for maintaining the British Crown Jewels and creating ceremonial pieces for the royal family.

Garrard produced many famous commissions, including the sapphire engagement ring given by Prince Charles to Lady Diana Spencer, now worn by Catherine, Princess of Wales. The firm is celebrated for fine jewellery, silverware, and luxury gifts, blending traditional techniques with elegant design.

Today, Garrard remains a symbol of British heritage, royal association, and exceptional jewellery craftsmanship.
