

A rare silver-gilt Queen Victoria Golden Jubilee medal

£145

Description

A rare silver-gilt Queen Victoria Golden Jubilee medal.

Queen Victoria's Golden Jubilee, celebrated in 1887, marked her 50 years on the British throne. The event was a grand affair, showcasing Victoria's long reign and the British Empire's strength. Festivities included a state banquet, parades, and public celebrations across the empire. The jubilee emphasised Victorian values and imperial pride, with numerous commemorative items produced. It was a significant milestone, reflecting the era's social, political, and cultural achievements under Victoria's enduring influence.